Purchased to go with monopod and small travel scope. Beautifully engineered engenders great confidence. Brilliant piece of kit.

Superb quality product as you'd expect from Manfrotto.

Well made and an essential product for the monopod with its quick release plate

I use mine during football games to get better portrait shots. During a game it is nice to have a bit of stability from a monopod but soon found it a bit awkward trying not to stab anybody with the monopod whilst trying to get portrait shots, that is not an issue now. Also the quick release system to remove the camera is so simple and easy to use. I'm just starting out in my career and this device is definitely making it easier.
